A celebration of vintage inspired Chateau stories

The Chateau by Angel Strawbridge embodies designer Angel's distinctive style. Every design nods to a bygone era and tells a story inspired by the Chateau and her family: husband Dick and children Arthur & Dorothy.

Each of the handwritings celebrate Angel's quirky sense of design and love of old things, telling the story behind the hidden treasures and enchanting grounds of her fairytale home, Chateau de la Motte Husson.

"The Chateau has so many stories to tell. Simple things: the herons that Dorothy and Dick watch every morning and the pumpkins Arthur grew in Daddy's walled garden, to the excitement of discovering hidden treasures that allow us to reimagine the past ... my design's tell the story of our lives here at the Chateau. It's not just beautiful, it's our love story.

I hope you enjoy the pages ahead and seeing the inspiration behind them."

Le Cirque du Chateau

A whimsical wonderland... the new 'Le Cirque du Chateau' collection is inspired by Angel Strawbridge's love of the Carnival, Fairground memorabilia and all the 'Fun of the Fair'.

Angel's children, Arthur and Dorothy, adore their fabulous furry friends and love that they are featured as playful circus characters. The Strawbridge family's obsession with Punch and Judy puppets and traditional funfair attractions is really celebrated in this playful design.

"I've been collecting vintage fairground memorabilia for as long as I can remember and for me 'Le Cirque du Chateau' evokes all the joy of a family day out: the sights, sounds and thrills of the circus or a traditional fairground ride – there's nothing quite like it! This collection makes me smile!"

The Wild Flower Garden Collection

The wild meadow and cutting garden at The Chateau are a love story. Since meeting Angel, Dick recognised her obsession with flowers and with their two children Arthur and Dorothy they made it their mission to create a magical place for Angel to cut from. Angel's style is wild and abundant. She uses botanicals, herbs and dried flowers for her arrangements in The Chateau and also for weddings.

“The wild meadow and cutting garden are very special places for me. The abundance of flowers and the creatures which live amongst them formed my inspiration for this whimsical yet elegant design. The Wild Flower Garden captures the spirit of the untamed surroundings; tendrils intermingle with a rich variety of shapes and forms, creating an alluring web of beauty. I added a sprinkle of Art Nouveau styling to capture the essence of the wild meadow and cutting garden at The Chateau perfectly.”

Moonlight

The 'Moonlight' design was inspired by re-imagining 'Blossom' by the light of the moon. Adding dusky moonlight creates a magical feel that Angel often says she experiences when she sees The Chateau under the moon's soft glimmer.

"The Chateau becomes an enchanted place by moonlight and this design perfectly recreates that sense of magic. There is an ethereal quality to the twilight which is captured in the beautiful painted scene, when the shadows and textures of the flowers and foliage all change; a perfect portrait of peace and tranquility."

In 2019, the Strawbridge's visited Monet's Garden at Giverny, where he painted the famous Water Lilies. They were so inspired by its beauty that, on arrival back to The Chateau, they purchased dozens of lily flowers for the moat, which open up in the heat of the midsummer sun, and when the sun goes down, they close again: a picture-perfect scene.

"We were utterly entranced by the beauty of Monet's Garden and wanted to recreate our own homage to Giverny; The Chateau by moonlight also creates an enchanting picture... Looking up at the sky can leave you breathless; it is so vast and when your eyes travel down to the moat, everything is lit by a magical moonlit glow. 'The Moonlit Lily Garden' brings together The Chateau's two most majestic outside views. The Moonlit Lily Garden may be fantasy...but it's one of my favourites!"

Blossom and Butterfly

Blossom and butterflies are abundant at The Chateau. Both are fleeting and precious reminders to stop and enjoy them in the moment.

“Spring is a very special time at The Chateau. Winter passes and spring starts to say “hello”, and for a short time the trees are bursting with sweet scented blossom. Some butterflies only show their beauty for a week, gracing us with their poise and elegance. The delicate formations, the smell, the blossom snow caused by the wind – all are reminders of how beautiful and magical nature is.”

The Lily Garden

When the Strawbridge's first moved to The Chateau, it needed lots of attention and it was a couple of years before they even ventured outside to plant their first trees. Since then, the grounds have been a rich source of inspiration, but in 2019 they visited the gardens of Giverny to see Monet's home and studio.

"There is something very special about being by water. When looking for our forever home, being close to water was on our 'must have list'! It was definitely love at first sight when we saw The Chateau and the moat really was the icing on the cake.

Sometimes you draw upon the beauty of other places to enhance your own home. Our whole family loved the lily pond at Giverny and it seemed only right to take this inspiration straight to our own moat! That year, we planted 30 lily rhizomes and could not believe it when a couple of months later, they gave us week upon week of flowers. We watched the lilies change daily...who knew they only flower when they've had three hours of light! Then when the light goes the lilies gently close and go to sleep... isn't nature fascinating?"

The Emerald Fan

Synonymous with traditional Japanese dress, the kimono encompasses Angel's love of all things vintage. Combined with beautiful hand-held fans, flower motifs and elegant Art Deco design, 'The Emerald Fan' draws us into an age of glamour and effortless style.

"I love a Kimono! The moment I slipped on my first silky Kimono I was hooked, and 20 years later my collection is vast. They are my 'go to' for comfort and effortless elegance. I adore the intricate designs and sumptuous fabric that embody the essence of this traditional Japanese attire. Taking inspiration from my love of Kimonos and Art Deco, 'The Emerald Fan' design, was originally designed for my parent's new suite, and is rich and opulent; a luxurious homage to the glamour of the roaring 20s and the romance of a bygone era."

There is a constant evolution at The Chateau, which provides inspiration all year round. In 2019 the Strawbridge's bought a vintage Asquith van, with dreams of turning it into a travelling adventure bus. During its transformation Angel joked about it feeling very "Driving Miss Daisy", a thirty-year old film loved by Dick and Angel, and at that moment the bus was named. But, of course, the French version!

"Our first trip in the Asquith was round the Chateau's grounds – so where better to look for inspiration than the wild daisies which flowered in abundance for the first time that year. Re-imagined with Art Nouveau patterning, the daisy motif combines the great outdoors with rich colouring to create a playful and contemporary design, with a backward glance to more carefree times."

Le Chateau des Animaux

There is a lot of animal life at The Chateau – in both the grounds and on the walls! Every room has ‘one’... Some of the most loved and recognised animals are faux and Le Chateau des Animaux is a nod to them.

“The Chateau’s grounds give our family lots of opportunity to go “on safari” ... But inside? Well... a fantastical unicorn welcomes you in the grand entrance and Arthur and Dorothy enjoy mealtimes with a giraffe and zebra in the salle à manger – and why not?! The Chateau was made for fun and laughter and my Art Nouveau design captures these special moments.”

Nouveau Heron

In Japanese culture, the heron represents a noble, graceful appearance and is a sign of purity. It is also known as the bird of happiness. Surrounded by a beautiful moat, The Chateau is the perfect backdrop for such an elegant and symbolic creature. 'Nouveau Heron' combines this elegance and symbolism in a design which encapsulates these qualities to perfection.

“We are very lucky to be surrounded by a moat. Not only is it peaceful and full of fish, but every morning a heron perches on a rock and eats our fish. Dorothy has taken a real liking to our adopted heron, often shouting at the top of her voice ‘the heron... the heron!’ It often flies off at this point, but we all run to the window to see it in flight!”

A Woodland Trail

The Strawbridge family share The Chateau parkland with many species of wildlife. Some of these are captured by Angel in this stunning design, while the autumnal tones reflect the colour palette of a particularly golden season at The Chateau.

“The grounds surrounding The Chateau are incredibly exciting and the subject of many morning chats staring out of the Strawbridge suite window. We are so lucky to be able to go on long walks, trying to spot deer, hedgehogs and squirrels hiding away in the woodland. There is an abundance of natural beauty and with Arthur and Dorothy at the perfect age, exploring nature is always on the agenda!”

Potagerie Collection

On the fourth floor of The Chateau, a room patiently awaited some TLC. The former servant's quarters look out over Dick & Angel's walled garden, the "Potagerie".

The room waited nearly four years to be given the attention it deserved, and in that time, the Potagerie had begun its transformation – and the view got better and better and better. Dick duly named the room "The Potagerie Suite", and from that moment it too started to come to life...

"The kitchen garden is Dick's passion, though a little outside my comfort zone. That said, there is such strong shape and form to be found there that I couldn't resist combining my love for Art Deco shapes with items from the garden tended so lovingly by my husband. The appearance of carrots, courgettes, artichokes, sweet pea and, of course, bees really scream, "Garden!" To complete the cottage garden feel I even took inspiration from the flowers on the century-old wallpaper that was originally in the room."

For Angel, design needs to tell a story. This one is about love.

Honeycomb

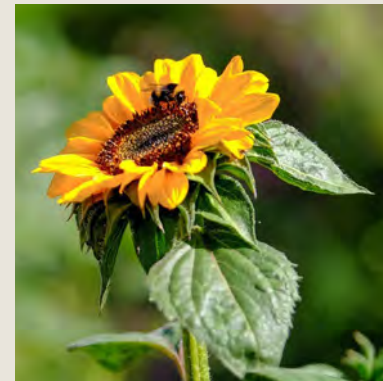

Life at the Chateau is so much about respecting the natural environment and providing a place where nature thrives. The grounds create a haven for bees to visit the flowers which Angel loves so much and these two motifs provide the inspiration for 'Honeycomb'. Combining hexagonal patterning with beautifully drawn flower and bee imagery, creates a soft but geometric pattern – perfect for bringing the outdoors inside.

“The Chateau is as much about the outdoors as the indoors. In fact, it is often a case of merging both... The Honeycomb design picks up on the theme of nature, in particular the bees that play such an important part of the natural cycle – pollinating the wild flowers that grow in The Chateau’s meadow, the wisteria that grows up the Orangery and the produce grown in the Walled Garden.”

A Watering Can Harvest

The Walled Garden at The Chateau has gone through an incredible transformation and now feels like a really special place to be. A place that is ever-changing, a place of beauty and a place of learning.

“We always encourage Arthur and Dorothy to join in with everything we do here at the Chateau – including growing their own plants and harvesting the fruits of their hard work. It’s really important to Dick and I that the children appreciate where their food comes from and that hard work is involved weeding, watering and taking care of the plants. They have loved growing their own produce - Arthur has grown his own watermelons this year!”

“Chateau de la Motte Husson is full of hidden treasures. When we first became custodians of our new home, Dick and I knew we were in for a lifetime of family treasure hunting. On my first official visit to the attic, I was rooting around with Dorothy on my hip and I opened the doors to a 15 feet tall armoire. I was holding my breath with excitement and was delighted to discover roll upon roll of the most beautiful wallpaper off-cuts from the designs that had adorned the walls of The Chateau since its birth.

I wanted to celebrate this and share the joys of the colours and designs, so that its history lives on in many people’s memories. A piece of each of the wallpapers now resides in our very own Wallpaper Museum cut into an elegant diamond and braided with love.”

Nouveau Wallpaper Multi 43x43cm Cushion

Built almost 150 years ago, The Chateau is an ever-changing account of those who have lived in it. Inspired by her wallpaper finds in the attics, Angel decided to make her own unique contribution to the Chateau's history.

"I always say this is a script you cannot write. What are the chances of finding the entire collection of off-cuts! The Wallpaper Museum has become a favourite story on our TV series, Escape to the Chateau. Who could have imagined that this would open up the future to my own Chateau inspired designs? Five years on and I am proud to have a portfolio of designs big enough to re-create the Wallpaper Museum. What's even better is seeing the past and present come together."
